

On the Analytic Solution of Cooling of a Lumped System with Variable Specific Heat

S. Abbasbandy

IKIU

Qazvin, Iran

Here, the homotopy analysis method (HAM), which is a powerful and easy-to-use analytic tool for nonlinear problems and dose not need small parameters in the equations, is compared with the perturbation and numerical and homotopy perturbation method (HPM) in the heat transfer filed.